Frequently asked questions

Q: Your classes are full and I need to take homebuyer education immediately. What can I do?

A: You can take homebuyer education courses through our partner agency Frameworks CDC 512-385-1500. They are a HUD certified Housing Counseling Agency.

Q: Do I need to take all three classes?

A: Yes, this is a series of three classes and all three must be completed before you can receive your certificate.

Q: Does my spouse need to attend the class with me?

A: Check with your lender to see if your homebuyer education certification requires that both of you attend.

Q: Do I have to take all three classes in a row?

A: No, once you register and complete your first class, you can finish at your own pace even if it's one class a month.

Q: May I bring my children to class?

A: Because this is large class that meets at night for three hours, we ask that you find child care while you are in attendance.
